Jane Lute serves as President and CEO of SICPA North America, a leading provider of security solutions to protect the integrity and value of currency, personal identity, supply chains, products and critical processes and data. Jane’s experience and leadership at the Department of Homeland Security (DHS), the United Nations (UN), and the United States Army, among other positions, brings tremendous value to SICPA’s customers in support of priorities such as:

- Global currency & ID protection
- Integrity of global supply chains
- Election security
- Tax infrastructure modernization

www.sicpa.com